California Ranch News

Co-operation of every peach grower in California in aiding the state crop survey committee to obtain accurate data on the 1928 orchard yield was requested by Governor C. C. Young in an appeal issued to the producers last week.

Barley threshing will start soon in the Imperial Valley, according to George Butters, president of the local co-operative exchange. All grains in the valley, with the possible exception of rice, are showing excellent growth. Last season more than 2,000 cars of grain were shipped from Valley points.

In this day of record br kers in all lines, W. Meads, Lodi, San Joaquin county, has a Rhode Island pullet that is making a bid for a record by producing a three-yolked egg. Poultrymen state that a double-yolked egg is rather unusual, but a triple is a rarity.

Eighty-five cows made places on the honor roll of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau Cow Testing Association in March, with an average production of eighty pounds and more of butter fat, according to the monthly report just issued. Six of the cows averaged more than 100 pounds; the highest production for the month being made by an F. F. Pellissier cow of Whittier, with 1111.6 pounds of butter fat.

Revised estimates and forecast of production of the commercial acreage of onions in California, recently made by the United States Department of Agriculture, indicate a production of 1,059,000 bushels from 3,850 acres this year, compared with 1,118,000 bushels harvested from 3,950 acres in 1927. Estimates of the commercial crop in Texas indicate a production this season of 3,428,200 bushels from 17,150 acres, compared with 2,202,100 bushels from 11,220 acres last year.

Mrs. America's fruit basket and salad bowl are filled by California. George H. Hecke, state director of agriculture, announced last week that California supplied 27½ per cent of all the fruits and vegetables consumed in the United States during the last year. California shipments totaled 284,325 carloads, shattering the record of 270,366 carloads established the previous year. California's output of the following products, Hecke said, represented 50 per cent or more of the nation's total: Oranges, honeydew melons, cauliflower, mixed deciduous fruits, asparagus, cantaloupes, grapes, lemons, lettuce, dried peaches, dried prunes.

The eighth annual California Valencia Orange Show which is to be held at Anaheim May 24 to June 3, will bring to the West one of the most vivid and exotic pagents seen on the Pacific Coast, say officials of the show. Aladdin—or at least a modernized reincarnation of that mythical dignitary—will be there with his Wonderful Lamp, and all about him will be abundant evidence of his late activity in Orange county, smallest and richest county in California. Aladdin will sit on a throne of golden-hued Valencias, thousands of which will be used in the decoration scheme for the huge main auditorium.

California's 1928 cotton crop outlook at this time is "very encouraging," reports received at the department of agriculture have indicated. Until now the principal difficulty has been poor stands occasioned by drying winds and cool nights. Replanting, where necessary, has been completed in most all districts, and "cutting," to thin the stand, is in progress in many sections. The Imperial and Bard Valley fields, the latter a part of the Yuma Reclamation project, are well advanced. The crop in the lower San Joaquin Valley was reported to be considerably more advanced than that in the Sacramento Valley.

Although a few early express shipments of Imepiral Valley cantaloupes are now rolling marketward, shipments in carlots are not expected to get underway with any regularity before the 15th of May, according to a recent report issued by the market news service of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Cool weather prevailing during most of the season to date has retarded growth, and the season is said to be about two weeks later than usual.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

"The intoxicated driver is the most dangerous person on the highways today." This is the indictment of the "ginned motorist" as made at Sacramento by Frank G. Snook, chief of the state division of motor vehicles, in instruction to traffic officers to continue the drive to rid the highways of this menace. Incidentally announcement is made that eighty drivers lost their licenses for this offense during the first three months of 1928.

Somebody once said that government is America's most costly luxury. Be that as it may, State Controller Ray L. Riley produced figures a few days ago showing that Californians are paying $19.94 every second for the privilege of being governed. Through their state, county and city officials, they are paying out exactly $1,700,000 a day, $71,784 every hour, $1,146.40 every minute. The machinery of government during the last fiscal year, states Riley, was greased with $629,225,108.33.

Los Angeles was awarded the 1929 national Shrine convention, according to word received from Miami, Florida, last week. No other city entered a formal bid. The session will be held June 4, 5 and 6. Clyde I. Webster of Moslem Temple, Detroit, was elected imperial outer guard of the Ancient Arabic order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. This post leads eventually to the highest office.

More than 1,000,000 boys and girls are enrolled in the California elementary and secondary educational system, it was announced last week by William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction.

Sacramento's famous "Days of '49" celebration, which drew visitors here from all sections of the country in 1922, will be held again next year between June 29 and July 7, it was announced by a committee of civic leaders.

By reason of the fact that his name led all the others among the Al Smith delegates on the Democratic ticket at the primary election James D. Phelan of San Francisco, former United States Senator, is being mentioned as the probable head of the California delegation at the Democratic convention in Houston. The selection of their chairman is now occupying the California delegates, following Smith's sweep of the state.

Superior Courts over the entire state will begin to operate under a uniform system of rules, August 1, a system planned to speed up court trials and do away with considerable "red tape," which clogs court calenders now. The State Judicial Council announced this last week at the conclusion of a two-day session held in San Francisco. The new set of regulations will be sent to the various Superior Court judges to be signed and then will go into effect in August without further ceremony.

Two highway contracts, involving the expenditure of approximately $150,000, were signed last week by Bert B. Meek, state director of public works. For surfacing of the Placerville road to Lake Tahoe between Fresno Pond and a point near Riverton, in El Dorado county, the contract went to Harold Smith of St. Helena on a bid of $16,032, against the state's estimate of $17,500. Another contract, that for grading and surfacing of the Bayshore highway between Broadway station and Fifth avenue, San Mateo county, was awarded to E. W. Wood of Stockton on a bid of $133,370, as compared with the state's estimate of $169,032.

On the highways of California there is no speed limit—under certain conditions. Motorists may roll along at 45 or 50 miles an hour, or faster, without going to jail or paying a fine, if they can prove, after they're arrested, that their speed was not unreasonable or imprudent and did not endanger life, limb or property. Such an interpretation of the "speed limit" provisions of the state motor vehicle act was made a few days ago by City Justice Earle J. Church of Fresno in dismissing a speeding charge against Philip Conley, an attorney. And the judge's decision was concurred in by officials of the California State Automobile Association.

Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan was, last week, assigned the task of finding a Scotchman whose surname starts with "Mac." Joe Mormolstein of 5033 South State street, Chicago, addressed the following request to Secretary Jordan: "Would you be so kind as to inform me if a certain Scotchman died in California within the last two years? The name was Mac—something, and I knew him in New York City some 30 years ago."

FIESTA GETS BIG BOOST TO TOURISTS

Calling to the attention of thousands of motorists the attractions of the Fiesta de Las Rosas in San Jose this month, Motor Land, the Pacific Coast magazine of motoring published by the California Automobile Association, devotes an article in its May issue to features of the Fiesta program. The association magazine goes to the homes of 76,000 motorists in Northern and Central California. The Motor Land article, in part, reads:

"Beautiful Santa Clara valley, ever an attraction on California's touring calendar, will again prove a magnet to thousands of motorists when the third annual Fiesta de Las Rosas is staged May 18 and 19 in San Jose. After the marvellous blanket of blossoms leaves the fertile valley, nature continues her handiwork in millions of roses and other flowers. The Garden City and adjacent territory at the lower end of San Francisco bay makes this the occasion of a celebration, which in two previous years drew a record number of motorists and the Fiesta is looked upon as the premiere floral event of Northern and Central California.

"The climax of the Fiesta is a parade in which scores of floats bedecked with roses and flowers are featured. The parade will move along the historic Alameda route of travel for the padres between Mission Santa Clara and the pueblo de San Jose de Guadalupe. The parade takes place Saturday, May 19."

REBEKAHS PLAN WHIST PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Holmes were initiated into the mysteries of the Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening by the officers and degree team of Ada Rebekah Lodge under the direction of Drill Captain Robert Lorocco.

There were several visitors from neighboring chapters, including Charles Snyder, past grand master of the I. O. O. F. of California.

Officers for the second half year were nominated at this meeting. Adelicious banquet was served by Mrs. Lillian Ohlen and an efficient committee.

On June 5 memorial exercises in honor of departed members will be held.

A whist party will be held on May 29, the proceeds to be used in replacing the robes which were stolen recently in San Francisco. Score cards 50 cents, including refreshments. Nice prizes will be awarded.

Conservation Committee Appointed

As directed by the Water Conservation Association at its April meeting Leroy Anderson appointed a water conservation committee. This committee has the matter in hand with a plan to form a district under the water conservation act of 1927. The committee are:

Fred Devenpeck, Allen and Walker roads; S. D. Farrington, Hicks avenue; N. B. Galbraith, Hillsdale avenue; J. Fred Holthouse, Alviso; Alec Kammerer, Alum Rock; Henry W. Lester, Edenvale; Frank E. Mitchell, Quito Road; W. E. Moore, Berryessa; Geo. C. Payne, Payne avenue; Noah G. Rogers, Vasona Junction; Burt Stevens, Coyote; L. E. Walter, Mountain View; I. A. Wilcox, Santa Clara; Arch Wilson, Cupertino; Louis Wurz, Sunnyvale; Leroy Anderson, Moreland.

The freshmen and low sophomore classes of the C. U. H. S. enjoyed a party Saturday evening in the Community Hall.

CAMPBELL C OF C SPONSORS FLOATS

Campbell Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Monday with President H. C. Smith presiding. L. S. Miller acted as secretary pro tem.

A communication from Santa Cruz Chamber was read inviting participation in the Water Pageant June 29-30 and July 1. It was suggested that the Sea Scouts might be induced to enter a float.

On motion the president was authorized to appoint a special committee to secure additional funds for policing the town. On that committee are B. O. Curry, G. E. Farley and W. I. Merrill.

On motion the highway committee was instructed to prepare and circulate petitions to the County Supervisors, to give the name "Union Avenue" to the road east of the creek from Campbell avenue south to the foothills of the Santa Cruz mountains; that the road from Santa Clara city limits south through Campbell to city limits of Los aGtos be named Winchester road.

This committee was instructed to meet with the County Highway committee to urge the change of the name of San Jose- Johnson-Infirmary Bascon avenue name to a shorter and less confusing one.

Will Finnermore suggested early action on the plan for a bridge across the creek at Casey road to connect with Sunnyoaks avenue and the matter was referred to the highway committee.

A vote of appreciation was given the Campbell Water Co. for placing the beacon light atop its new water tower. By this Campbell can be located at night from many points in the valley.

D. H. Cramer reported that the high school would enter a float in the Fiesta parade and needed funds to assist them. Twenty-five dollars was voted for this cause.

Campbell's high school band of 40 pieces in its new uniforms will also be a part of the parade.

A special committee was appointed by the chair for a membership drive. On the committee are: T. A. Cutting, Mrs. M. Lanphear, G. E. Farley, E. R. Kennedy.

LETTER CARRIERS ENJOY PICNIC

Santa Clara County Branch of the California State Rural Letter Carriers' Association, affiliated with the National Letter Carriers' Association, held a district meeting at Winchester Park on Sunday, June 13th.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS TALK ON HUMANITY PLANS OF MANAGERS

In the absence of Hal Morton, Rawhide Hyde managed the chair and change at Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday in a most authoritive manner. He had planned quite a varied program that was much enjoyed.

Byron Hall of the grammar school gave two clarinet solos accompanied by Miss Nielson at the piano.

E. R. Kennedy gave a short talk on fruit conditions. Walt Merrill talked his old home town and the famous Portland, Me., clams. H. C. Smith told of his home town, St. Cloud, Minn., its big fish and many lakes. Horace Lea left Lakeport, Calif., and a good fish pond, to come to a much prettier place, Campbell. Ed Weisendanger objected to so much fish talk.

T. A. Cutting spoke of the inter-club "fly squad" to make an official call during visiting week. President Merrill has appointed to that squad Rev. J. H. Bennett, E. R. Kennedy, T. A. Cutting and Ed Wiesendanger. Others who wish to go will meet with these at the library Monday noon.

"Manpower in Industry" was the interesting subject so well discussed by Mr. Eugene McCann of the Pacific Gas & Electric company. Mr. McCann stated that in contrast to the art age, or literary age, the present might properly be called the mechanical age. In this machine day, the strange thing is that more and more is the human welfare and comfort idea being developed with the result that each individual is becoming more efficient.

Departments in the larger industries are being instituted to bring a closer co-operation between the managers and workers. Men are being trained by companies to fill given positions.

The attitude of workers are surveyed with the idea of development and the personality of a director or leader of men is an asset that may make or ruin him. Co-operation with equals is a most necessary trait in those who are in line for promotion. The man who cannot co-operate would become a misfit in the organization and he must necessarily be crowded out by the co-operator. Many of the present day managers of big concerns have worked up from the ranks and have retained their heart of humanity and instill that humanity in their subordinates.

Mr. McCann closed with this bit of true verse:

The Old Manager Speaks

I've handled a pick and a shovel,
I've sat at a bench in my time,
I've done heavy work in the heat and the murk,
I've known all the sweat and the grime;
And so, when some frosty-eyed expert
Talks "Labor" as if it were coal,
"A Commodity"—well, I just choke for a spell
Before I regain my control.

Plague take all this dope economic
That plats human toil in its charts,
I tell you that "Labor's" your friends and your neighbors,
It's floks that have bodies and hearts.
It's fathers and brothers and husbands
With mothers and sweethearts and wives,
Who love and who hate and who dream and who wait,
It's real people living their lives.

Now maybe I'm moss-backed and rusty,
But here's how it lines up to me;
Statistics will aid in the plans you have made,
They're useful to quite a degree,
But all of your lore scientific
Will fall down again and again,
Unless in your brain this one fact you retain,
That "Labor" means flesh-and-blood Men.

In brief, it's a problem that's Human,
No soulless "Commodity" stuff,
And the very best plan I have happened to scan
Is just be human enough;
And when it is finally settled
(I fear I won't be here then)
It won't be by art of a book or a chart,
But Men dealing fairly with Men.

—Berton Braley.

A. M. Mortenson of San Jose will speak on the "Boy Scouts" Tuesday and George Burrow will be chairman.

'OLD PEABODY PEW' STAGED BY GUILD

What does it mean? Why is it the name of a play dramatized by Kate Douglas Wiggin, the author, and is produced by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York.

The Women's Guild of the Congregational Church will present this charming, little play on the evening of May 25 in the church parlors.

The production was written for old fashioned country meeting houses. The humor is wholesome, genial and discreet, letting it circle around church activities with only good natured retorts that leave no sting behind them. The "society" will talk no scandal—though it will discuss the foibles of men-folk, "Widders," and old-maids, deacons, ministers and ministers' wives.

The scene of the play is Tory Hill Meeting House at Buxton Lower Corner, Maine. The "Dorcas Society" make the background There is the love story in which the youth and maiden are separated for a dozen years—a story that has its happy end, as it had had its beginning—under the shelter of the old church steeple. Simply a story of a piece of life. Come with a silver offering and enjoy this delightful, and happy, little dream, the work of a wonderful woman, Kate Douglas Wiggin.

The Campbell grammar school board have elected Miss Dean, Miss Sevy and Miss Sloan new teachers to the school faculty. Miss Dunlap has resigned to go to the San Jose schools.

Lucius Buck has gone to Yosemite where he hopes to hold a season job with the Camp Curry Company.

The Children's Song

Land of our birth, we pledge to thee
Our love and toil in the years to be;
When we are grown and take our place,
As men and women with our race.

Father in heaven who lovest all,
Oh, help Thy children when they call;
That they may build from age to age,
An undefiled heritage. . . .

Teach us to look in all our ends,
On Thee for judge, and not our friends;
That we, with Thee, may walk uncowed
By fear or favour of the crowd.

Prohibition Sweeping On

Much as they may scoff at prohibition, and say that it is losing ground, the facts speak a different story. Not only has prohibition come to stay in America, it seems to be making conquests abroad as well. Obregon, who will succeed Calles as President of Mexico, unless there is a revolution in the interim, has taken a stand in favor of prohibition. He says it is the only thing for his country and if Obregon proves as forceful an executive as Calles, is it too much to expect Mexico to line up with her big sister republic in banning strong drink. And in far away Russia they are now making speeches for prohibition, which the soviets had once, and then surrendered to vodka because they thought liquor made the working men happy and contented. It has been found that vodka makes them miserable, and so there is an agitation to dry Russia up again, which will probably come. They are even talking prohibition in England, but this will be a long time coming for the Britisher is prone to sticking to his old habits—his brandy and soda, don't-cher-no.

Protect the bird houses from cats. A good way is to cut a strong wire about inches long, flatten the end by hammering it and drive it into the post with a pair of pliers. Point the end down. When you have a dozen or more looking like an umbrella skeleton driven around the post or under the bird house you will sleep better and the wrens and bluebirds will do so, too.

Convicts arrived at the Southern end of the Carmel-San Simeon highway last week, and actual construction of this important link of the all-coast highway will begin immediately. Additional convict road laborers will be added to the state prison camp at Salmon Creek Falls, near the Monterey county line, as soon as the work gets underway. Under the present program it will only take three years, instead of five, to complete this spectacular piece of scenic coast highway, which connects the old coast highway at San Luis Obispo with the Monterey peninsula.

The annual Intentions-to-Plant Report of the State Crop Statistician indicates that there is a 5 per cent increase in California acreage planted to wheat this year, compared with 1927; 10 per cent increase in barley, but a 1 per cent decrease in oats. This acreage may finally be harvested for grain, harvested for hay, or abandoned—depending upon weather conditions during the next few weeks. The condition of wheat is now 88 per cent of normal, compared with a 10-year average of 86 per cent.

Safeguards

TRUNKS, mattresses and bureau drawers offer little protection for valuables in the event of fire or a visit from thieves. Absolute security at trifling cost is assured for personal effects when they are placed in an American Trust Company safe deposit vault. The low rental of a safe deposit box makes it unnecessary to expose valuable articles to danger.

P. T. A. Officers Elected

On Tuesday afternoon, May 15, the Campbell High School Parent-Teachers' Association met and decided upon officers and policies for the next school year. Mrs. Hedegard is to continue as president for another year and Mrs. W. I. Merrill was elected first vice president and Mrs. Rice treasurer. There was a lively discussion as to the policies to be pursued for another term, especially in reference to what will most effectively increase membership, and as to the advantages or disadvantages of meeting around at the homes of members.

It was announced that an all day picnic is to be held on May 28 at Winchester Park by the P.-T. A. Council. All members are cordially invited to attend this most worth-while social function. Campbell High will be represented by a male quartet, which will sing during the noon meal, and other enjoyable treats will be in store.

All the mothers agreed that the Mothers' and daughters' banquet had been productive of the very spirit needed in social functions for high school life. The hope was expressed that many more such delightful functions would be given, thus lending rich local color to school life. A request was issued by the president for flowers to be brought to the school on Friday afternoon and help by any mother, artstically inclined, in preparing the beautiful float which Campbell High is entering in the Fiesta parade.

The meeting day for the P.-T. A. next year will be the third Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock in the High School in the High School Assembly. On Monday afternoon, June 11, the last meeting for this school term will be held.

Growers and shippers have been showing a great deal of interest in artificial ripening of various vegetables, since the announcement two years ago by the division of truck crops of the University of California, of the ethylene treatment for tomatoes. Coloring green tomatoes with ethylene is now a commercial success, where the treated fruit is not too immature and the temperature is high enough, more than 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Recently experiments were carried out by Dr. J. T. Rosa at the university farm on different kinds of melons. Exposure of casaba and honey dew melons to a concentration as low as one part of ethylene to 4000 parts of air for two days had very marked effects. The green color promptly disappeared from the rind, leaving the casabas golden yellow, and the honey dews creamy white.

Average daily production of crude oil in California during March was 617,830 barrels, compared with 622,016 barrels in February and 641,850 barrels in March, 1927; production during the first week of the present month, ending April 7, declined still further, to 608,400 barrels. Petroleum producers recently agreed to "shut-in" an additional 52,000 barrels of oil daily in the state; with a previous shut-in of 82,000 barrels, a total of 134,000 barrels daily will soon be capped, to conserve storage space.

Preparations are being made in all counties where puncture vine exists for the 1928 control campaign says W. C. Jacobsen, chief, bureau plant quarantine and pest control. Results obtained in previous campaigns, he states, have been very satisfactory to those in charge of the control program. Early activity in the control operations will facilitate the elimination of this pest. Several counties have already outlined their spraying plans and machines have been ordered to take care of the season's weed program.

NEW PHONE LINES FOR INTERURBAN TALK

Increased demands for telephone service between cities in the Monterey peninsula have necessitated the telephone company company undertaking a project between San Jose and Monterey which when completed will provide additional facilities between these two cities and intervening points. This was announced today by D. A. Manning, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company manager here.

The work, which is now undergoing construction, involves the placing of 208 miles of copper wire, which in turn necessitates the placing of 205 additional poles at various locations along the route of the lines.

As a result of this work two additional telephone lines will be placed between Santa Cruz and Aptos, four additional lines between Watsonville and Salinas.

According to Manning, the project when completed will cost almost $35,000.

Pastures improved rapidly during the month; their condition on April 1 was 92 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent a month ago and a 6-year average of 82 per cent. Cattle and sheep are in improved condition—92 and 93 per cent of normal, respectively, compared with a 5-year average of 90 per cent and 91 per cent.

Approximately 2,000 acres of land in the Vina section near Red Bluff, Tehama county, is to be planted to cotton this year. This is acording to Charles W. Reed, prominent rancher of that section. He said that Thomas Stevens & Matti are preparing to plant 2,000 acres to cotton and that Godbolt Brothers are getting about 800 acres of land ready for the same crop.

The published report of Horticultural Commissioner T. D. Urbans shows the number of Sutter growers who engaged in producing cling peaches during the 1927 season was 1,200, representing 21,468 acres. The latter figure is divided as follows: Bearing acreage, 14,804; non-bearing acreage, 6,664. The cling peach acreage, by varieties is given in the report as follows: Tuscans, 3,833; new varieties, 685; Phillips, 5,995; Levy, 55. The non-bearing acreages in clings are listed as follows: Tuscans, 263; new varieities, 4,603; Phillips, 1,744; Levy, 1; Tuscan Jean type, 21; seedlings to be budded, 32.

Arrangements have been completed for holding the fourth annual asparagus festival at Isleton, Sacramento county, commencing Friday, May 18th, and continuing for three days. While this state produces ninety per cent of the world's asaparagus, eighty per cent of this product is canned in and around the delta region. Last year's output of 2,500,000 cases of asparagus was grown on 68,000 acres, 52,000 of which were embraced in the delta region. Rio Vista, Ryde, Walnut Grove and Courtland are co-operating to make this coming event a bigger and better success than ever before.

Production of butter, milk and cream, the staples of the dairy industry, shows a good increase for the first quarter of 1928 over a year ago, due to improved feed conditions and better quality of dairy cattle. During February, the last month of actual record, estimated production of butter in California was 6,012,300 pounds, 11 per cent more than the total for February, 1927. In spite of the low trend of prices, which during the quarter was about 2 per cent below the same period in 1927, indications are that profits will show an increase over last year due to heavier unit production. Prices now, at the end of April, are at about last year's levels.

Woodland High school won the H. O. Harrison sweepstakes trophy for the high school agricultural judging contest held at the University of California Farm at Davis, in connection with the Nineteenth Annual Picnic Day. The Woodland teams made a total of 119 points in the seven contests, as against 112 by Salinas, which finished second; and 110 by San Benito High School of Hollister, third. Santa Rosa was fourth with 109.5 points, and Lodi fifth with 104. Fifty-eight high schools from all parts of California, with nearly 600 students, were entered in the contests, which included dairy products, livestock, agronomy, plant identification, poultry, orchard and farm mechanics.

Hopeful Diplomacy

"The department that does the billing and collecting," says a business manual, "can't be too diplomatic in dunning overdue accounts that are probably good."

You betcha! It ought to be called the billing and cooing department.—Farm and Fireside.

Fifty-eight names appear on the May parole calendar of San Quentin Prison, announced a few days ago by the state board of prison directors. In addition, there are ninety-five convicts now serving indeterminate sentences who will appear before the board to have their terms fixed.

San Anselmo sold its jail for $5 last week. Built six years ago the jail housed only two prisoners in that time and the community decided to beautify the city hall by removing the jail addition.

Reports submitted by county superintendents of schools to the state department of education show that during the school year ended June 30, 1927, for every man in the teaching profession as it related to the public schools there were nine women engaged.

Lieut.-Gov. Buron Fitts had his right leg amputated last week at the government veterans' hospital at Sawtelle, it was announced. Fitts has been in the hospital for observation since May 1, having again suffered trouble from the leg, on which seventeen previous operations have been performed as the result of its injury by shrapnel in the World War.

The so-called "road-hogs" a few days ago were blamed for more than 50 per cent of California's highway accidents in recent months, in a survey by Major Louis La Place, chief of the bureau of statistics of the division of motor vehicles. Backing up his conclusion that the failure of some motorists to yield the right of way, caused more than half the accidents, La Place said, 539 accidents were directly caused by road hogs.

The longest sports contest on record between the University of California and Stanford is about to enter into its fourth year. "Time out" will be declared during the summer vacation period at both institutions and in the fall the respective teams of both colleges will go into "huddle" again and resume play. The contest is the chess game began in January, 1925. Seven men on each team combine brains for each play and each move is carried on by mail.

California is in the midst of astounding developments in aerial transportation. Three agencies have combined to make the state a model for a national system of airways. Working quietly for many months they have already achieved almost incredible results. Other projects of great importance and magnitude are now under way. Behind this tremendous but unnoted progress stand these three agencies: The Airways Divison, Aeronautics Branch, Department of Commerce; the Daniel Guggenheim Foundation for Promotion of Aeronautics and the Standard Oil Company of California.

San Francisco paid the largest and the smallest inheritance tax in California during the period between December 6, 1927, and May 7, 1928, it was revealed recently. The largest tax paid was for $750,000, representing partial settlement on the estate of the late Adolph B. Spreckels. The smallest was for 43 cents, on the estate of W. Popplein. Figures sent by the city treasurer, John H. Thieler, to state controller, Ray L. Riley, showed a $750,000 increase in inheritance tax collections over the same period a year ago. The total for the period ending May 17 was $1,845,637. For the period a year ago collections were $1,093,490. Fees retained in the city treasury more than doubled, from $3,691 a year ago, to $7,573 this year.

Nearly 1,300 more accidents involving railroads and street cars occurred in California during 1927 than in 1926, and the resultant loss of life increased more than 15 per cent, an announcement made by the state railroad commission shows. During 1927, there occured 5,467 mishaps ranging from grade crossing collisions to persons slipping while stepping from street cars. These caused the deaths of 353 persons and brought injuries to 4,380 others. Compared with those figures are the 1926 totals showing 4,195 accidents, 301 fatalities, and 3,499 cases of more or less serious injury.

California's new system of nominating candidates for the posts of United States senator, congressman, state senators, assemblymen and appellate judges will have its first "workout" this year in preparation for the primary election to be held August 28. At the last legislature, the old plan of nominating candidates by the circulation of general petitions was abolished. In its place was substituted the method of securing the support of a certain number of pledged sponsors.

Superior California's second forest fire of the season, occurring last week near St. Helena, Napa county, was reported to State Forester M. B. Pratt. The fire burned over about 160 acres and was brought under control the same day. Several weeks ago, a small blaze occurred in El Dorado county, but did no appreciable amount of damage.

California's bill for school books is experiencing a shrinkage, due to the work of the state printing office in their production, that the citizenry is going to learn of with much satisfaction. A cut of approximately 66 2-3 per cent in costs is not to be overlooked, with so many other places in which the saving can be utilized. The office has just completed the printing of 25,416 copies of arithmetic books No. 1, at an average cost of 21 cents, the total being $5,336. At the publishers' quoted prices, these books would have cost the state more than $15,000.

P G & E CO. LAYS BIG GAS MAINS

To meet increased demands for gas in the peninsula territory the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is starting a $464,827.00 project which will include the installation of 15 miles of 16-inch high pressure gas main.

The line will start at the Potrero gas works in San Francisco, the San Francisco gas manufacturing plant of the company and will extend through Daly City, South San Francisco and San Bruno to Lomita Park, where it will join the present 8-inch high pressure line now serving the peninsula and extending south to San Jose.

The 16-inch line will be extended farther south as needed to supply additional demands.

The pipe has arrived for the new project and work will start within the next 10 days, according to J. D. Kuster, division manager of the company. The project is to be completed in time to carry the fall and winter demands for gas throughout the territory.

The entire 15 miles is to be made of of 16-inch steel welded pipe.

The new line was necessitated through the growth of the whole peninsula as far south as Palo Alto. Further growth of the peninsula south will result in the extension of the line. In addition to meeting increased demands for a gas on the peninsula, the new line wil lbe of value to San Jose in times of emergency. There will now be a continous line from San Francisco to San Jose with feeders extending to Los Gatos.
